

Fresno Fly Fishers for Conservation

Roger Miller Youth Fly Fishing Academy
May 20, 2017 - May 21, 2017

Fresno Fly Fishers for Conservation is again offering a two-day fly fishing academy in partnership with the San Joaquin River Parkway Trust and the San Joaquin River Conservancy. Fresno Fly Fishers for Conservation is the oldest fly fishing club west of the Mississippi. The Academy is designed for young people ages 11 to 15. Instruction will include casting, fly tying, conservation, and a host of other skills offered by regional experts. The course includes a day of education at the Coke Hallowell River Center and one day of fishing in regional waters. Fishing date may change due to water conditions.*

There is a $25 fee (some scholarships are available) and some adult or parental participation is required. Enrollment is limited to 12 serious young people who would like a hands-on introduction to this engaging sport. The club will supply all materials for your child to learn fly fishing for both days.

Applications will be accepted until the course is full. For further information contact:
